

Job Title: HERITAGE ENGAGEMENT OFFICER, Hands-On Heritage (HOH) Project.

Ulster Architectural Heritage is Recruiting. Are you the person to help lead delivery of our 'Hands-On Heritage' project? This is a unique opportunity to work with the team at Ulster Architectural Heritage (UAH) and make a difference to the protection and promotion of the built heritage of Northern Ireland.

Supported by National Lottery Heritage Fund, UAH is seeking a Heritage Engagement Officer for our Hands on Heritage project. In the role, you will motivate community groups and individuals across Northern Ireland to read, record, research and respond to their local built heritage using the Hands on Heritage app. This will involve demonstrating and explaining the heritage and reporting app. You will work with UAH committee, staff and heritage professionals to bring the project to a successful outcome.

UAH is the lead independent voice for the promotion of built heritage, its protection, conservation and regeneration in Northern Ireland. Across the nine counties of Ulster, we work to defend Northern Ireland's historic buildings and promote appreciation, preservation and conservation of these precious historic assets.

THE ROLE

The role of Heritage Engagement Officer has been developed as part of the Ulster Architectural Heritage, Hands On Heritage (HOH) Project, funded by the National Lottery Heritage Fund (NLHF) Northern Ireland.

The 'Hands-On Heritage', (HOH), project is a dedicated programme providing expert guidance and tools to help people and communities take the lead in activities to highlight, protect, conserve and regenerate their historic buildings across Northern Ireland.

KEY TASKS

You will be responsible for the delivery of the engagement phase of the Hands On Heritage Project in collaboration with the key consultants, other UAH staff and committees including to:

- (1) Deliver the final phase of the project, demonstrating our series of short technical guides, app and online mapping toolkit to heritage groups across Northern Ireland.
- (2) Organise associated promotional events and outreach activities to the public and local communities across NI including networking events, roadshows, workshops, competition and exhibitions.

KEY OUTCOMES

1. To test the 'HOH Heritage Recording & Reporting App' to ensure best standard of information provision and user functionality.
2. To promote HOH "How To" short guides on themes relating to people and community led action for built heritage in Northern Ireland.
3. To schedule and promote events associated with the project.
4. To widely communicate the 'HOH Heritage Recording & Reporting App' via social media, website and targeted public engagement initiatives, preparing press releases and dealing with media queries.
5. To work with identified local groups across NI, helping them to read, research and record their local built heritage via the App, and to compile built heritage lists/guides for their area.
6. To work with an Evaluation consultant to deliver a project evaluation report.
7. To work with UAH staff and Committee(s) to deliver the project within budget, timescales, and objectives contained in the National Heritage Lottery Fund (NHLF) application and project plan.

Other similar and/or reasonable activities may present themselves as part of the development of the Heritage: HOH Project.
